

MEDIA NETWORK Broadcast Remote Production Scholarships

Broadcast Remote Production scholarships of $1,500 to $2,000 are available for students who are interested in learning and honing the skills of multi-camera live stream broadcast remote production. Applicants must be full-time students who intend to be a Communication major or minor that are interested in learning to work in all aspects of broadcast production. If awarded a Dordt Media Network Broadcast Remote Production Scholarship, a student will:

- Be expected to work a minimum of 10 hours a week (140 hours per semester) and be available to work nights and some Saturdays.
- Attend all mandatory broadcast remote truck training sessions
- Participate in all aspects of broadcast remote production: directing, graphics, replay, audio, and camera operation
- Learn proper set up and tear down of broadcast remote production equipment.
- Move into a Dordt Media Network Student Leader role after required training, helping train and recruit other students for work on a broadcast remote team.

These scholarships are renewable for an additional three consecutive years provided the recipient maintains a 2.00 cumulative GPA and completes all the requirements of the scholarship as listed above.
