Academic Offerings

This section contains descriptions of programs, majors, minors, areas of concentration, fields of specialization, and courses. Semesters following course titles indicate when each course is normally offered. On rare occasions, a course may not be available when indicated because of low enrollment or unexpected staffing changes.

Courses listed as Fall Odd and Spring Even are scheduled to be offered during the 2015-16 academic year, i.e., fall 2015-16 is Fall Odd, spring 2015-16 is Spring Even.

Social Work

The social work program is built upon a strong liberal arts base and foundational courses in the social sciences. The program is designed to equip students with the requisite knowledge and skills for beginning social work practice. The program is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (1986). Admission to the social work program and completion of the major will require a formal two-part application process. Graduates will receive the bachelor of social work degree.

Admission to the Program

Application for admission to the program is required and should be filed during the spring semester of the sophomore year prior to spring break. Forms may be obtained from the chairperson of the Social Work Program Committee. The Social Work Program Committee reviews completed application forms, and admission to the program is based on the following criteria:

- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.20; completion of at least 39 credits; completion of or current enrollment in CORE 120 or English 100, CORE 140, 150, 160, 180, 212, Psychology 201, Sociology 201, Statistics 131, CORE 200, CORE 110, CORE 266 or Political Science 201, Social Work 200, 215, 216, and 225.
- A written statement of personal interest that indicates an ability to communicate effectively and a commitment to social work as a vocation.
- A letter of reference indicating acceptable physical and psychological health.
- Enrollment in practice courses is limited to students who have been admitted to the program.

Upon review of the application, the committee will take one of the following actions:

- Accepted—meets all criteria
- Accepted conditionally—some criteria require further attention.
- Denied—some or all criteria inadequate.

The student will receive written notice of status.

Admission to the Professional Semester

The second part of the application process is an application to participate in the professional semester that includes an intensive field work experience. This application should be filed during the spring semester of the junior year, prior to spring break. Forms may be obtained from the chairperson of the Social Work Program Committee. The Social Work Program Committee will review the application, and admission to the professional semester will be based on the student’s meeting the following criteria:

- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50.
- Completion of the required courses as listed under the major.
- Senior standing (anticipated).
- Professional letter of reference indicating acceptable physical, intellectual, and psychological suitability.
- A written statement that demonstrates acceptable communication skills and a mature and knowledgeable interest in social work.
- An interview that demonstrates the student’s suitability to social work in terms of interest, knowledge, maturity, personality, and physical and mental health.

Upon review of the application, the committee will take one of the following actions:

- Accepted—meets all criteria.
- Accepted conditionally—some criteria require further attention.
- Denied—some or all criteria inadequate.

The student will receive written notice of status.

The Social Work Program Committee reserves the right to refuse admission or continuation in the program, to any student who does not maintain a 2.50 GPA, or who, in the judgment of the committee, has physical, mental, or personality handicaps that would be detrimental to the student and/or to the welfare of the clients to be served. Academic credit for life experience or previous work experience shall not be given, in whole or in part, in lieu of the field practicum or of the courses in the professional foundation areas.

Social Work 374 (Field Work Experience) must be taken at Dordt College to receive graduation credit toward the social work major.

200 Introduction to Social Work (3) .................................................................Fall
A survey of the major fields of social work practice and of the problems with which they deal. It will include agency field visits. Overarching this survey will be a concern for the Christian's individual and collective responsibility for the health and welfare of his neighbor and community.

215 Vulnerable Populations (3) .................................................................Spring
A historical and contemporary analysis of groups considered vulnerable by economic and social standards in American society. Causes, consequences, and implications for society are examined from a biblical view of humankind with an emphasis on social work practice. [Cross-listed: CORE 256, Sociology 215]

216 Diversity and Inequality (3) .................................................................Fall
Students examine the historical and contemporary factors related to diversity and inequality in North America and increase their appreciation for the contributions of diverse groups in culturally-pluralistic societies. The course assumes that human diversity is created good and explores how to discern that goodness after the Fall. Students assess their own biases in light of course material and increase their sensitivity to diversity. [Cross-listed: CORE 276, Sociology 216]

225 Family System and Practice (3) .................................................................Spring
This course examines the family system from sociological and practice-oriented viewpoints. Students will evaluate contemporary and traditional views of the family within a Christian perspective. Students will also be introduced to historical and contemporary child and family welfare practice and policy. [Cross-listed: Sociology 225]

281 Service-Learning (1-3) .................................................................Fall, Spring, Summer

283 See page 113, Individual Studies

304 Aging and Social Work (3) .................................................................Fall
An in-depth examination of the myths and realities of aging in Western culture. Combining sociological theory and practice, this course introduces the student to aging, physiological and psychological change over time, and theories of social gerontology as well as current issues such as health policy, retirement, the extent of family support, institutionalization, and the aged in the political arena. Will include field work assignments with older persons, guest speakers, and site visits to programs for the aging. Prerequisite: senior standing or permission of instructor.

307 Methods of Social Science Research (3) .................................................................Fall
An introduction to the research process as applied to the study of problems/issues in social science. Problem selection, research design, measurement, methods of observation and data collection, data analysis and interpretation, and report writing will be emphasized. A module on microcomputer utilization and the application of descriptive statistics is presented for application in student projects. Prerequisites: Statistics 131; junior or senior standing. [Cross-listed: Sociology 307, Statistics 307]

309 Human Behavior and the Social Environment (3) .................................................................Spring
Presentation of a theoretical and conceptual framework for understanding socio-psycho-biological factors in human development across the life cycle. The focus is on the interrelationship between the individual, family, small groups, and society. Prerequisites: CORE 212, 261; Psychology 201.
310 Fundamentals of Social Work Practice (3)
The focus is on acquiring the foundation interpersonal and problem-solving skills for social work practice. Development of self-awareness and self-knowledge related to growth in skills and a beginning identity as a social work professional will also be emphasized. The course is organized around experiential learning models. Prerequisites: Social Work 200, 215; English 100 or CORE 120; CORE 110.

311 Practice Methods I: Social Work with Groups (3)
An overview of general systems theory as a basis for developing an integrated social work practice model. Special emphasis will be given to the development of problem-solving skills related to groups found within social work practice with a variety of intervention strategies presented. Prerequisite: Social Work 310.

312 Practice Methods II: Social Work with Organizations and Communities (3)
This course explores social change and organizational theories along with an emphasis on practice at the organizational and community level. A continuation of Social Work 310 and 311 with an emphasis on practice at the agency and community levels. Prerequisites: Social Work 310, 311.

313 Church, State, and Social Welfare (3)
This course examines the question of which societal sphere is responsible for protecting vulnerable people. The course will follow the historical path of development of the modern social welfare institution, with a particular focus on the Progressive Era and the birth of social work and public administration. Students will examine structure, development, and contemporary response through discussion, research and varied readings on the biblical call to care for our neighbor, charity, social justice, and the normative role of the state and the church. Students will wrestle with this fundamental question: “How must I, acting alone, or in combination with others, behave towards vulnerable people?” Prerequisite: CORE 200. [Cross-listed: CORE 313]

315 Social Welfare Policy (3)
Students work within a social welfare policy analysis framework that allows their critique and development of recommendations for current and past social welfare policies. The course explores both faith-based and secular attempts at addressing social problems through policy. Two special features within this are the analysis of welfare reform within the United States and political advocacy.

325 Integrative Seminar in Social Work (3)
An opportunity for students to reflect on and integrate the academic and field work experience with a special emphasis on ethical and value dilemmas confronted by the student in the field. (Open only to senior social work majors who have completed the professional semester admission process.) Corequisite: Social Work 374.

374 Field Work Experience (12)
The field work course is designed to provide the student with the opportunity to apply classroom knowledge, principles, and skills in a community agency under the supervision of a professional social worker. (Open only to senior social work majors who have completed the professional semester admission process.) Corequisite: Social Work 325.
